

ETC Compliance Solutions

John Benz, President

Carol Benz, CEO

www.E-T-C.com

ETC Compliance Solutions provides safety and environmental training and consulting services throughout the Southwest. In addition to offering monthly open enrollment OSHA, DOT, MSHA, EPA, and RCRA classes in Phoenix and Tucson, ETC Compliance Solutions also delivers on-site, custom site-specific compliance training on any safety or environmental subject. ETC Compliance Solutions' consultants assist clients with a wide range of safety / environmental issues including, but not limited to, site safety / environmental audits and plan development; written safety programs; air and water discharge permits; Process Safety Management consulting; training development including computer based training; job hazard analysis; Industrial Hygiene services and behavior-based safety implementation. ETC Compliance Solutions' "Safety/Environmental Managers for Rent" program is designed to help small and large firms proactively manage their safety and environmental compliance requirements in a professional and cost-effective manner.

The devastating consequences of ignoring safety and environmental issues became a reality for John and Carol in 1996 when their manufacturing business suffered a fire caused by faulty equipment. Although they were back into production in two days, the resulting equipment and data loss, customer jitters and time spent recovering from the effects of the fire forced them to close the business after a year and a half struggle. They strongly believe that managing the risks to your company's assets is as vital as managing the positive bottom line. Their heightened awareness of the importance of developing a safety plan and culture within a company is the reason for their involvement with ETC Compliance Solutions and NFIB. The smart way to run a business is the safe way!