

IS YOUR WEBSITE A LAWSUIT WAITING TO HAPPEN?

Tell state lawmakers:
Stop the shakedown of Missouri's small businesses

Across the state, Missouri small business owners are receiving demand letters from predatory trial attorneys claiming that their websites are not ADA-compliant.

While there are no clear ADA compliance guidelines for websites, these attorneys are demanding settlements of up to $15,000, knowing that small businesses will often settle as quickly as possible to protect their reputation and avoid mounting costs. These attorneys know that.

It's wrong that predatory trial attorneys are using the transformative work of the Americans with Disabilities Act against small business owners to make a quick buck. These shake-down lawsuits are just the latest example of the legal abuse Main Street Missourians face.

The Missouri General Assembly is considering reforms that would put a stop to these trial attorneys' attempts to force a settlement without allowing the business an opportunity to resolve the issue.

Tell Your State Senator:

Stand up for small businesses

Vote to stop ADA lawsuit abuse
